Sioux and Crow Indians.—From the Mountains.—We conversed yesterday with a gentleman just from the mountains. He states that the measles had broken out among the Sioux, while on a war excursion against the Crows, on the Yellowstone River, and that 700 to 800 had died. The Grows having heard of the prevalence of the incessles among the Sioux, retired in consternation towards the mountains. The Sioux disappointed in meeting the Crows, fell upon the lodges of a penceable prairie tribe, killing 70, and taking 80 prisoners; this occurred on the 16th May last. The Crows and Sioux are hereditary enemies, and carry on unceasing hostilities. Last fall the Sioux made an incursion into the Grow country, where they were fail the Sioux made an incursion into the Crow country, where they were met by the Crows and defeated; some 30 or 40 warriors fell in the battle— To average the death of their comrades the strong expedition was fitted out this spring, which proved a failure, on account of the measles breaking out in the camp. A Woman "Travelling on Talent."—

A woman calling herself Mrs. or Miss Rogers, from thirty to thirty five years of age, has been detected in Beltimore in a stronge affair. She boarded in a fashionable hotel, foreset rielly, and was followed and it was discounted, that has used to go to a mosn house, ins little alley, which she reused for the purpose, strip off her flower, put on gags, and go out soliciting contributions for a distressed mother, Arc., always returning in time to dress herself in superb stire, and be at the hotel at the regular hours. The trick was exposed and she left for Philadelphia on a hint from the landlord of the hotel where she stopped.

Arrical from Halifus .-- The steamer Arrival from Halifus.—The steamer Union, says an exchange, connected with the Cuard line, arrived at New York on the 33d olls, from Halifax.
